Montana is Inalca's historic brand, a company of the Cremonini Group, leader in European production of beef and processed meat products.

Montana's products represent the taste of Italian tradition, always in line with the trends of today's consumers.

From the classic "Ragù alla bolognese", to the Jambonet meat patè, to Montana's iconic product: beef in jelly!

What distinguishes Montana's beef in jelly is its Made in Italy (100% meat from Italian farms), the short and controlled supply chain, the jelly made with its natural meat broth, and its environmental product declaration EPD. The declaration calculates the environmental impact of Montana classic canned meat through the entire production chain from farming to the collection and recycling of the packaging, with a certified path from which Montana's commitment to respecting the environment emerges in line with the requests of a more aware and responsible consumer.

Beef in jelly

MONTANA

CLASSICA ITALIANA

Montana classica italiana is the first beef in jelly with an environmental product certification (EPD). Montana selects the cuts using only the lean part of the muscle, which is cooked, sliced and packaged with the addition of gelatine obtained from its natural broth. Montana beef in jelly is a lean product (only 1.2% fat) and is also a safe choice for those with coeliac (AIC handbook).
